

Rev. Anthony Hawke

Full name:

Reverend Anthony "Buster" Hawke

Birth:

22 July, 1838 Wivelscombe, Somerset

Parents:

Lord Wellington Bwraivier Hawke II, 2nd Earl of Wiveliscombe

Lady Eleanora Printz-Hawke

Siblings:

Lord Barrett Willis Hawke, 3rd Earl of Wiveliscombe (older)

Spouse:

Henrietta Hawke (née Shaw), married 1 January, 1873

Children:

Anthony Jack Hawke Jr, passed of cholera in 1875

Occupation:

Anglican Reverend (retired)

Living Situation:

Lives quite comfortably in Pembridge Square with his dog, Biscuit (Breed: Corgi), and wife, Henrietta.

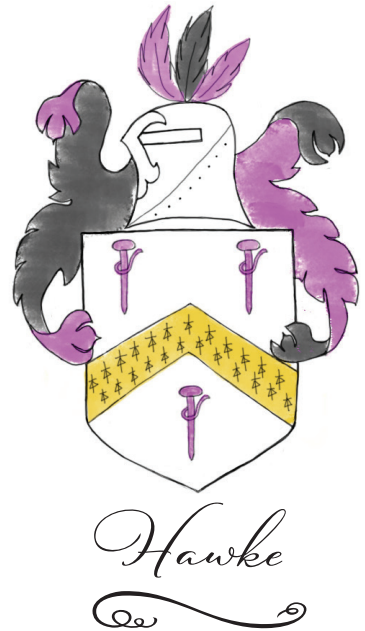

Brief Family History:

His father, Lord Wellington, served in the House of Lords from 1831 until his death in 1866. Gossip: Rev. Hawke felt "a mysterious urging" towards the clergy after seeing what he claims to be an image of the Holy Ghost within the rings of a white oak tree on the Hawke estate in his youth.

Brief social History:

Rev. Hawke, not long after making a name for himself as a staunch Anglican moralist, would come to respectfully retire in order to wed Henrietta Shaw. The Reverend reports a close friendship with Sir George Monroe, hailing back over thirty years presumably to their mutual attendance at Eton. Gossip: Nickname comes from his days on the Eton boxing team. He had a "jaw-busting" uppercut.

Need to confirm this.

Henrietta Hawke

Full name:

Mrs. Henrietta Hawke (née Shaw)

Birth:

12 December, 1845 County Mayo, Ireland

Parents:

Jack Eamon Shaw

Eland Marie Shaw

Investigate further?

Siblings: Joseph Patrick "Paddy" Shaw (older)

Marjory Grace Shaw (younger)

Jack Eamon Shaw Jr. (younger)

Spouse:

Reverend Anthony Hawke, married 1 January, 1873

Children:

Anthony Jack Hawke Jr, passed of cholera in 1875

Occupation:

Lady of Leisure and former sheep's milk maiden

Living Situation:

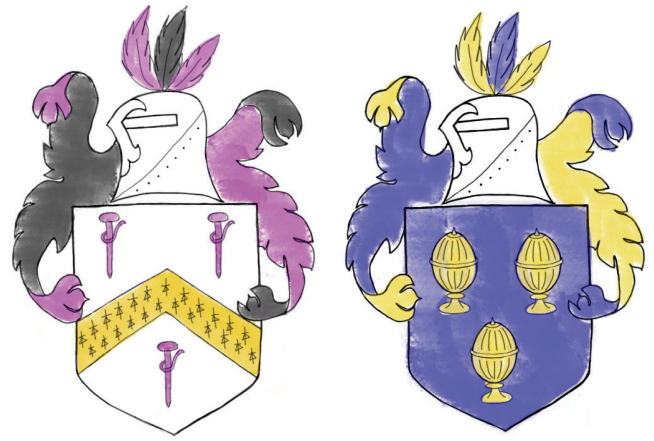

Resides in Pembridge Square with husband and dog, Biscuit (Breed: Corgi). Spent her formative years in the charge of her Great Aunt Edie Shaw-Pimm, heiress to the Pimm's Company fortune.

Brief Family History:

Henrietta Hawke's family owns the Son of Shaw Shearlings and Dairy. Her older brother "Paddy" inherited the family business after their father passed unexpectedly during a fatal shearing accident. Every Boxing Day, the locals are invited to the Shaw farm to freely enjoy one of the largest recorded cheese plates in history, and Mrs. Hawke makes an annual pilgrimage home for the tradition.

Brief social History:

When her father passed, Henrietta was sent to reside with a great-aunt in London. There, she was tutored and groomed for entry into London's poshest circles, and her marriage to the Rev. Hawke solidified her place therein. Her penchant for philanthropy has earned her great acclaim amongst the most noteworthy ladies of London's society. Her nephew Jack Shaw, is currently visiting London and staying at the Hawke residence. Gossip: Mrs. Hawke and Jack Shaw are very close, and he is in line to inherit the estate, barring any future children.

Hawke

Shaw

Jack Shaw

Full name:

Captain Jackson Shaw

Birth:

1 May, 1868 Manchester, Lancashire

Parents:

Jack Eamon Shaw Jr.

Helene Edith Shaw (née Hollis)

Siblings: None

Spouse: None

Children: None Known.

Occupation:

Serviceman & Gambler

Living Situation:

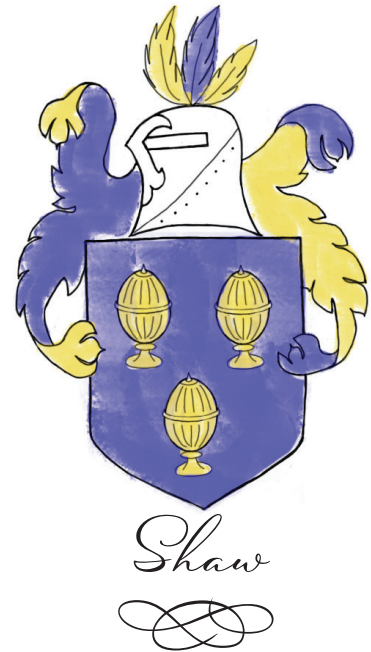

Stationed in Bombay, currently staying with Reverend and Mrs. Hawke, and spent his formative years in London before joining the army.

Brief Family History:

Jack's mother Helene passed from tuberculosis when he was just a tot. A year after her death, Jackie Jr. moved to England and there remarried. It is unclear how Jackie Jr. made his fortune, but by the late 1870s he was a prominent figure in Manchester. Favorite nephew of Henrietta Shaw. May stand to inherit??

Brief social History:

Jack attended Westminster School until 18. Jack is known to have been serving as an infantry captain in India until recently when he was able to report home to England on leave. Gossip: He's a frequent visitor to the local gambling halls, and he may owe money to one or other undesirables around town. He possibly joined the service to escape long accrued debts. Favors the In & Out, but is not a stranger to other clubs. Preference for Pharo.

Alice Monroe

Full name:

Alice Margaret Monroe

Birth:

24 April, 1875 Peking, China

Parents:

Sir George Monroe

Evelyn Olivia Monroe (née Walker)

Siblings: None

Spouse: None

Children: None

Occupation:
Heiress

*Praised as an artist-
Only commissioned work to date is a portrait of Chinese doctor Sun Yat-sen.*

Living Situation:

Currently residing with in Pembridge Square with the Hawkes. Alice formerly lived in Peking, China with her father, Sir George Monroe III.

Brief Family History:

Alice's father, Sir George Monroe, is a Counselor for Her Majesty's Royal Service in China. Alice's mother, Evelyn Monroe (née Walker), was an American fur trading heiress and succumbed to pneumonia when Alice was one year old. A sweet anecdote: Alice's birth announcement notes that she was named after Mrs. Monroe's favorite book, Alice in Wonderland.

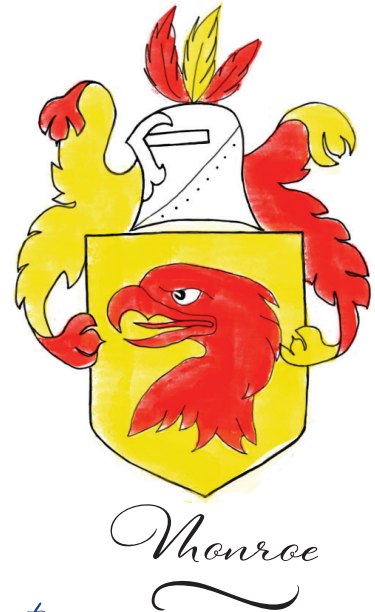

Brief social History:

During her formative years, Alice was educated by an American governess, Madame Beau LeBon. Alice proved to be a very bright student and was especially proficient in her fine art pursuits, and has received much notice for her painting, in particular. Alice was a regular in the Peking social scene. Rev. Hawke has confirmed that the Monroe family's intentions are that she meet and marry someone of good social, moral, and financial standing. This is Alice's first visit to England.

Clearly Not Mr. Danvers.

Perhaps this is where she met Danvers?

Would he be well-connected enough to cross paths here?

Sir George Monroe

Full name:

George Duncan Monroe III

Birth: 3 October, 1836 Uttoxeter, Staffordshire

Parents:

George Duncan Monroe II

Charlotte Anne Monroe (née Kortright)

Siblings:

Tabitha Emma Monroe (older)

Emily Mary Emmett-Rawdon (née Monroe) (younger)

Spouse:

Evelyn Olivia Monroe (née Walker), married 23 December, 1869

Children:

Alice Margaret Monroe

Occupation:

Counselor for Her Majesty's Foreign Service in China

Former army major (retired with honors)

Living Situation:

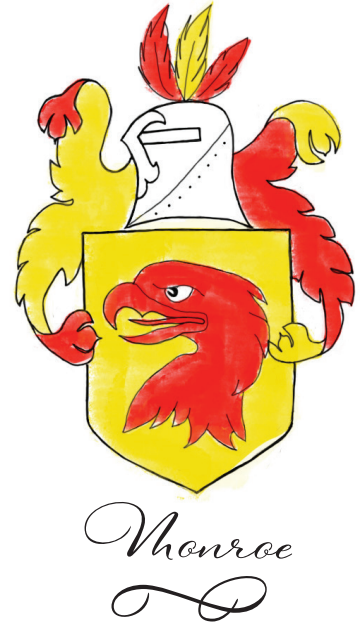

Has resided for the past 22 years in Peking, China, with his only daughter and the "prize of his eye," young Alice. Sir George spent his childhood in Uttoxeter, Staffordshire before attending the Royal Military College. He spent many years abroad with the army, in both India and the Far East.

Brief Family History:

Sir George descended from a line of servicemen. Sir George fought in the Second Opium War before serving in India. He returned to England for several years, and during this time met and married Evelyn Walker. After being appointed the head Counselor for Her Majesty's Foreign Service, Sir George and his bride relocated to China in 1871, Mrs. Monroe was lost tragically to pneumonia one year after Alice's birth.

Brief social History:

Attended Eton with Rev. Anthony Hawke and were great friends. Gossip: Sir George has expressed an interest in taking up ballooning once he retires.

*Rarely returns to England.
Why?*

Mr. Danvers

Full name:

William Wentworth Danvers

Birth:

17 February, 1872 Scarborough, Yorkshire

Parents:

*William Dean Danvers
Elizabeth Danvers (née Babington)*

Siblings: Unknown

Spouse: None (presumably)

Note: File updated after Danvers found on passenger list.

Children: None (presumably)

Occupation:

Apprentice to the Royal Customs House in China

Living Situation:

Danvers resided for some time in or around Peking, China. He was sent out to Peking by his father to study the language, in order to qualify for a billet in the customs. Presumably raised in England.

Maybe in Flanders ??

Source: Chicken farming story in the LLP

Brief Family History:

Ancestor Henri d'Anvers first established the family crest in the name of the Crusaders. In 1601, another possible ancestor, Sir Charles Danver, was executed for his part in the Essex Rebellion a plot lead by Robert Devereux against Elizabeth I. Little more is known about the family than that.

Brief Social History:

Paramour of Alice Monroe, but considered 'too poor' by her father to be a suitor of any substance. Assumed (by Sir Monroe) to be of no money, and unable to support a wife. Learning Chinese to better his employment opportunities and improve his station.

Danvers

Variations of the name Danvers:

*D'Anvers
Denvers
Denver
Danver
Danvis
et. all.*